This illustrates a franchisee's net monthly revenue after typical fixed fees and expenses and before variable operating expenses. Variable operating costs will vary between franchisees and Franchise Packages.

The chart assumes you elect to finance the balance of your franchise fee and purchase liability insurance through Heits.

The amount of your variable operating expenses will vary based on how you choose to operate your franchise and other market conditions. The figures above are calculated using information that has been disclosed in our Franchise Disclosure Document (FDD).

The chart shows that the potential net monthly revenue available to cover your variable operating expenses and to recoup your initial investment.

The chart assumes that Heits has provided you with all the janitorial accounts necessary to meet the total monthly revenues associated with your Franchise Package.

NOTE: As explained in our FDD, the monthly dollar volume of the Franchise Package you purchase should not be considered as the actual or potential income or profit you will realize. Your actual or potential income or profit will depend on numerous factors, including how well you operate your franchise.
